

Melvina Aubichon

Executive Committee
Member,
Saskatchewan

Melvina Aubichon is D ne from the English river First Nation and grew up in Patuanak, Saskatchewan. Melvina embarked on her career after much contemplation to move from her community; at a time when Northern Saskatchewan did not have technical capabilities to deliver on-line or satellite post-secondary training programs. Melvina has earned a Certificate in Adult and Continuing Education and a Bachelor of Commerce Degree with a major in Human Resources, both from the University of Saskatchewan. Melvina has a diverse knowledge in economic and community development and supports community well being; both economically and socially.

Melvina is currently employed by the Saskatoon Tribal Council (STC) as a Labour market Information Analyst and promotes employment and training programs to the STC Seven member First Nations. Melvina's focus is to ensure that the STC members receive quality training and meaningful employment opportunities. Melvina participates in various committees to establish and re-new partnerships, and to ensure that STC members are aware of varying employment and training opportunities. At this time, Melvina is in the process of pursuing her Master's in Public Administration. Melvina's passion is to work with Aboriginal Youth in leadership and career development; to enable Youth to become active participants of the Canadian labour force.
