

Please visit Links to Learning website at www.links-to-learning.ca/home for symposium-related information. If you have any questions, please call or email Geraldine Potts at (780) 990-0303 x 221 or geraldine.potts@edo.ca.

Personal Information

First & Last Name	Organization
Position	Address
City, Province, Postal Code	Email
Phone / Fax	<input type="checkbox"/> I am a registered Links to Learning delegate <input type="checkbox"/> I am taking this course only, invoice me for $150.00+gst

* By submitting this form, I give permission to Cando to use photos taken during the workshop for promotional purposes.

ACED 220 - FIRST NATIONS LAW & COMMUNITY ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT Competency 1: Aboriginal Law and Policies

3 credits - 45 hours (includes face-to-face & on-line portion)
Delivered by: Nicola Valley Institute of Technology

Date: Wednesday, February 1, 2023

Location: Westin Bayshore Hotel, Vancouver

ACED 220 will provide the student with knowledge of contemporary First Nations Law and Economic Development. The student will learn about constitutional law, case law, and public policy. This course will discuss the concepts of self-government and of community development. Analysis will include studying the Indian Act and studying contemporary economic initiatives. In addition, this course will discuss the communities' control over services, creation of corporations, and economic development. Systemic issues such as historical background, history of treaties, and Canada-First Nation relations will be studied. This course will provide a historical understanding of contemporary events as well as current legal and political developments.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Upon successful completion of this course students should be able to:

1. Understand the Constitutional Framework.
2. Understand Aboriginal, Hunting, Fishing, and Treaty Rights.
3. Gain an informed knowledge on Land and Land Claims.
4. Learn about self-government and self-determination.
5. Understand the Indian Act, Band Membership, and First Nations Citizenship.
6. Discuss the challenges involved with community control of services.
7. Analyze community corporations, commercial relations, and taxation.
8. Learn about First Nations Law and Community Economic Development.

Schedule

Face to face: February 1, 2023 from 8:45 am - 4:30 pm

Online: February 2-28, 2023

This course is free of charge for registered Links to Learning delegates, and $150 per person for those individuals that would like to take the accredited course only. Registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis.

Note, to receive 3 credits, you MUST complete the online portion of this course.